Old Carolina® Brick Company

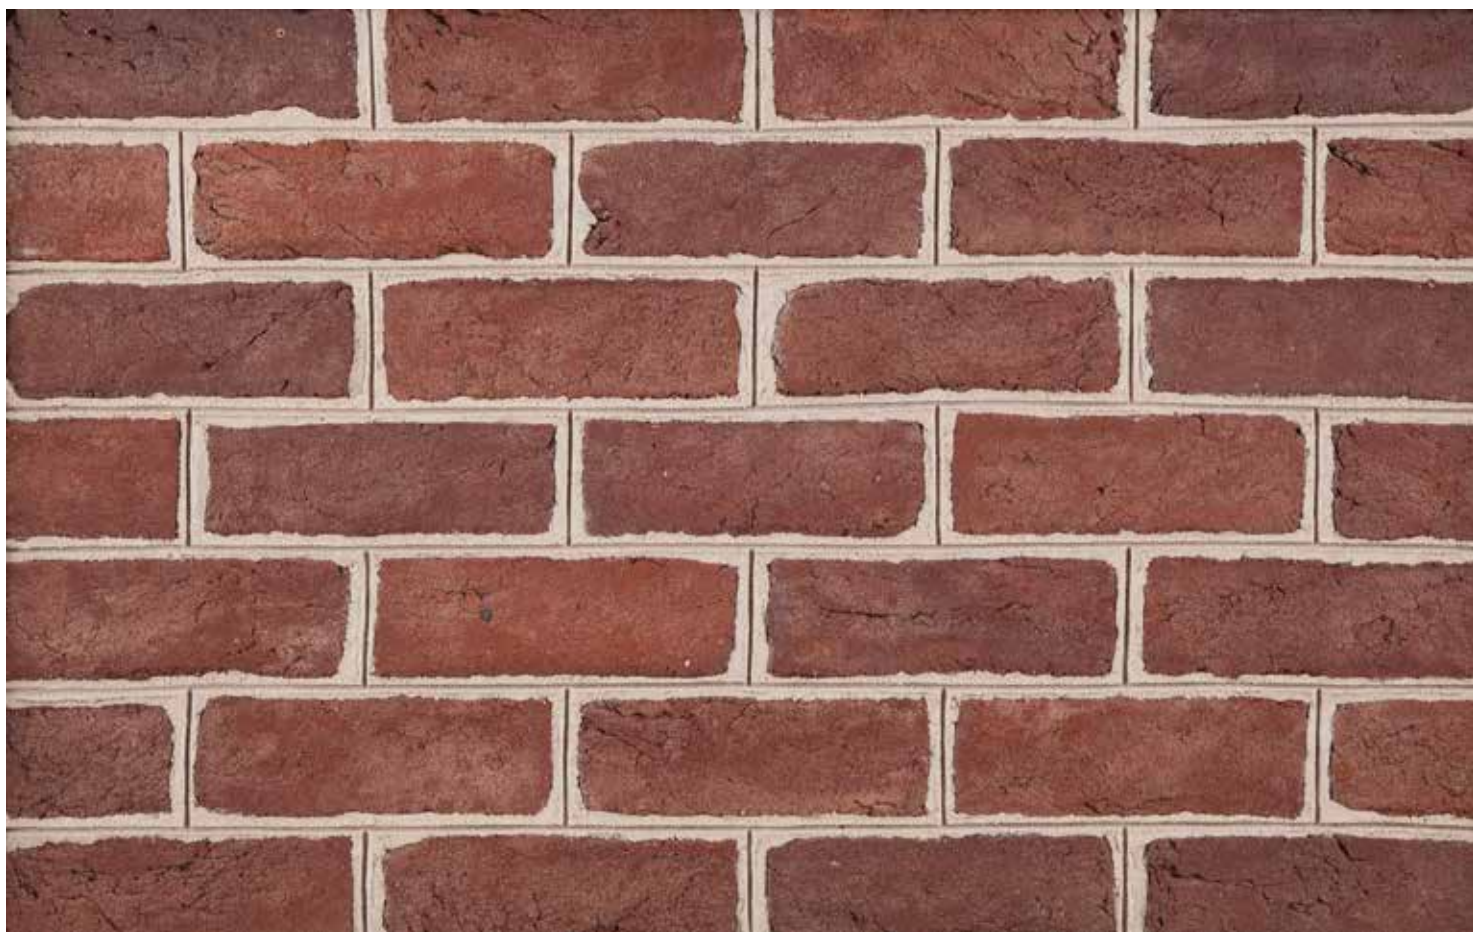

The classic, antique beauty of Old Carolina® brick is created by hand. In the colonial tradition of craftsmanship and lasting beauty, Old Carolina® brick are each hand moulded and then hard fired to provide the beautiful bisques, hues, and unique colors identical to those of brick made centuries ago. Our hand moulding process imparts distinctive folds, finger marks, and particular surface irregularities for individual characterization of each brick. Old Carolina® handmade brick provide a unique appearance unequalled by conventional machine made brick.
